Pantone equivalents are close visual matches, not exact conversions — ask the printer to confirm against a physical book before the run. CMYK values are for digital or offset process printing; for letterpress or screen printing, supply the two spot colours instead.

NOTES FOR THE PRINTER

- The green circle bleeds off the top-right corner. All other shapes are contained within the trim.

- The two inks never overlap — every element is a single solid hit, so no registration trapping is required.
- Largest solid is the bleeding circle at roughly 35 mm diameter; if that is too much coverage for a letterpress plate, it can be reduced or converted to an outline. Please flag before platemaking.
- Reverse is blank — no ink on side two.
